THE MOST REVEREND
RUSSELL J. McVINNEY, D.D.

In you is placed the ministry of the Word in the power of the episcopacy. To you it is given to speak not only in the persuasive words of human wisdom and exhortation but in the showing of the Spirit of God to us who are of your flock and under your guidance. In you, under the Vicar of Christ, we have our historical link with the origins of Christianity. In you is placed the honor of the Church in this diocese. Therefore to you we offer our filial obedience as our spiritual leader, to you we dedicate our loyalty and allegiance as our teacher and friend. For you we ask the presence, the power, and the grace of the Holy Spirit in the functions of your Ministry and in the fulfillment of your office as Chief Shepherd to us your Children.

“Multiply upon him thy blessing”

—Roman Pontifical Consecration of a Bishop

The sea speaks to us in many voices. Yet in its varied sounds there is unity. Beneath the changing rhythm of its tides, there is a constancy and sense of the eternal. Like the sea, Fellow Students, your many voices resound among us. To you is given a unity of purpose in your religious, academic, and social life. Beneath the rhythm of each lies the constancy of faith and the vision of eternal truths. In recognition of your noble heritage and your high purpose as Salve Regina students we, the graduates, dedicate to you the 1959 Regina Maris.

CLASS OF 1960

Juniors . . . looking to greater things . . . jolly and hopeful . . . mothering our Freshmen sisters. On top of the world in metaphysics . . . delving deep into fields of concentration . . . finding each seminar challenging and fruitful . . . teachers and nurses . . . new techniques and new experience.

Sapphire Ball . . . anticipating, enjoying, and at last remembering . . . cake sale . . . musical show . . . our happy hours together.

Class to remember . . . eager for achievement—
Class of 1960.

At 11, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday—where do we find the Junior Nurses? Why in the Smoker—studying, playing bridge and generally catching up on news around Salve Regina.

Helena D'Almeida discusses plans with the Junior class officers: Nan Kelley, Gail Fisher, Martha Lyons, and Monique Geoffrey.

As Christmas approaches, thoughts naturally turn to decorating. Never let it be said that the Juniors lack that special touch.

'Cause music makes the world go round . . . Sandy Gai, Pat Dunigan, Jeanne Sansonne, and Mary Ellen Donovan, check the beat of "The Music Man."

Lunches at S.R.C. . . . quite special . . .
our dinners superb . . . anyone will tell you.

Bermudas, Shetlands, Liberty Scarfs—
all attract the attention of these Juniors at Thompson & Forbes.

Fund-raising projects—the Juniors' cake sale appeals to all—even the calorie-conscious.

The "Blue Sapphire" . . .
the long-awaited day . . .
every Junior's dream come true.

CLASS OF 1961

Anne Marie Smith
Class President

A Sophomore . . . wise fools, so some say . . . ready and willing to lend a helping hand to all . . . harsh judges at Beanie Court . . . "Air Raid" and shopping bags . . . often abandons a "Zoo" for solitude and quietness . . . scorns daily quizzes . . . steps first foot into a major . . .

Dairy Lounge forgotten for the sophistication of the Mayflower . . . firmly believes that the week begins on Friday . . . stops everything for a coffee break . . . convinced that Homer lived too long and Aristotle philosophized too often . . . likes signs, parties, and Navy blue . . . dislikes getting up, Thursdays, and perms . . . a legendary state of mind—a passing glory—a sophomore.

"Gotta listen to pass those finals." That's exactly what the Sophomore Sociology majors do during lectures. Tomorrow's leaders enthusiastically take down what the "ancients" did.

A few sophomores pose at their dance, "November Nocturne." Autumn has its own gaiety.

Sophomore Class officers, Peggy Cawley, Judy Ready, Maureen McGillicuddy, Anne Smith, and Carolyn Downs plot the finishing touches for their big social event.

Calories, calories—after class a little snack at the Casino Coffee Shop helps sustain the hungrier ones until supper. Conversation never lags until the waitress comes with "the goodies."

Judy Goff and Carmella Ricci concentrate on bridge as Mary Silva lends all her efforts to sophomore World Lit.

A minute of between class study in the library saves doing that little bit the night before.

A day to remember . . . September 24, 1958 . . . the sophomore nurses received their caps and with lighted candle recited their pledge to Our Lady. Here they are with our distinguished guest, Most Reverend Bishop Russell J. McVinney, D.D.

Beverly DiLeone, Wanda Tereska, and Mary Healy lead Class of '62.

CLASS OF 1962

A trifle shy at first but very soon at home—introduction to college life—green bows, beanies, demerits—new teachers, new textbooks, new friends—a new world to live in. Anticipation—exams, weekends, vacations, and the event of the year, Court Cotillion—cherishes memories of many things and finds life amusing, exciting, and very much worthwhile.

Traditions are held dear by everyone at Salve Regina. Students look forward to these with feelings of anticipation and joy. Here Pat Quinn '62, lights the first candle of the traditional Advent Wreath while other Freshmen are initiated into this important phase of their college days.

Homeward bound—next year rumor has it, a helicopter will replace good old 350.

Imported to highlight the freshman show—Mary Martin and Ethel Merman.

Initiation frights are ended as Freshmen entertain Sophomores.

Friday at last! That bid finally arrived—now off for a weekend of fun.

Study?—who us?—well, as a matter of fact the books aren't ornamental.

Beware! Genius at work. When inquisitive Freshmen experiment with Chemistry—trouble in sight?!

Did it rain cats and dogs? Not quite! These teddy bears, giraffes, and assorted creatures are just tokens of childhood days. Although this meeting was called to elect a blue ribbon animal, everyone felt so sure that hers would win that the judges just called it a draw.

"Drive your Chevrolet through the U.S.A.!"—But these girls are perfectly content to drive to the soda shoppe in town.

Wait until the bills go home! The Avenue has so many beautiful shops—the prices aren't that high—but Dad!!

We're a bit informal now and then.

ACADEMIC HONORS

"Man's reach should exceed his grasp."

—BROWNING: Andrea del Sarto, 1.97

Janis Miles, Barbara Balzano, Anne Motte, and Jane Integlia discuss election of new members to Sigma Phi Sigma.

Salve Regina sponsors two honor societies. Kappa Gamma Pi, the National Scholastic Activity Honor Society of Catholic Women's Colleges, is concerned with a high level of achievement in scholarship, character, service, and leadership. Membership in Sigma Phi Sigma, the National Honor Society for students and alumnae of colleges conducted by the Sisters of Mercy in the United States, is granted to students in both the Junior and Senior classes who have been outstanding in scholarship, loyalty, and service, to students who have a clear realization of the Mercy ideal of education.

HONOR SOCIETIES

There is a time to smile even in the world of scholarship. Kappa Gamma Pi claims as her own this year Anne Carpenter, Simone Laplante, Dolores Matoes, Inez Silva, Rosa DaSilva, and Anne Motte.

On September 24, Mercy Day, Salve Regina College holds its traditional Honors Convocation. The most important and awe-inspiring event is the capping of the Sophomore Nurses. Students attaining academic honors for the previous scholastic year receive fourrageres and Dean's List Cards. Officially students enter a new academic year with the turning of the tassel.

HONOR CONVOCATION

Junior class president, Barbara Balzano, receives the spade from tree orator, Jean Coughlin.

Loyalty, scholarship, and service qualify candidates like Janis for membership in Sigma Phi Sigma.

A long-awaited and happy occasion for the seniors—the conferring of the academic hood.

The sophomores graciously descend the stairs attired in their multi-colored gowns eager to commence the traditional laurel chain dance.

Efficiency personified . . . Sim takes over in the recovery Room. The patient? Completely recovered, of course!

Homemakers of tomorrow know all the tricks today. Pat, Marie, and Paula show a magic touch in the kitchen.

FIELD WORK

"Miss Matoes" directs with that professional touch. Result? Three proud 4th graders.

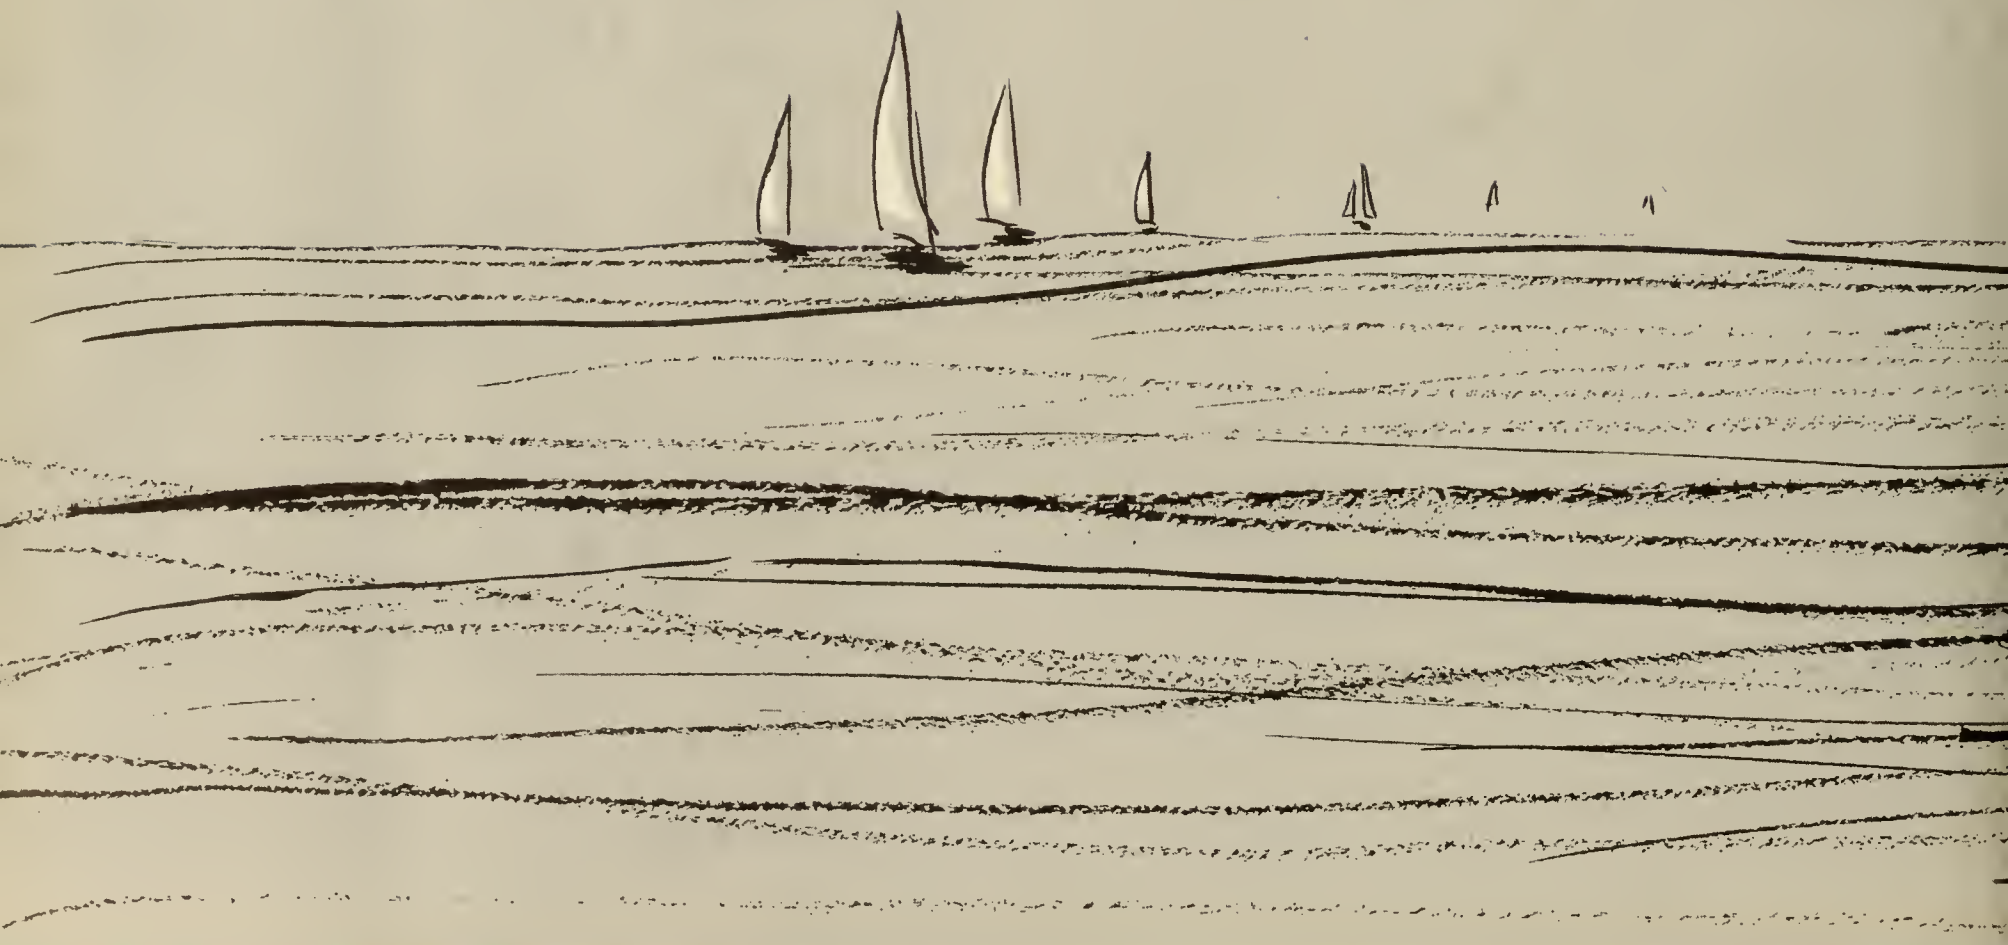

Kindness plus trained minds equal a Salve Sociologist.

TRADITIONS

"What custom wills, in all things should we do't."

—SHAKESPEARE Coriolanus, Act IV, Sc. 3

To the Child's Crib, we bring our gift of love. At Salve Regina we show forth this love. On the first Monday of Advent, we light the traditional Advent Wreath. He came to poor children as well as others. For these children, we have our annual Christmas Party. Santa Claus is there to pass out the toys and clothing. Naturally for the children, there are goodies.

"Christ comes new

The night before vacation, we will always remember. Seniors light the wreath. A Holly Dinner follows. And then—the Candle-light ceremony—awe-inspiring and solemn, indicative of all that Christmas means—the ceremony that truly brings Him near. We encircle His Crib and sing beautiful carols. To His Crib, we bring our special gift of love—ourselves.

born and newly dear.”

—MEYNELL, ALICE: Unto Us a Son Is Given, 1.2

CHRISTMAS DANCE

OUR COURT COTILLION

Formality and grace mark the tone of this picture as chaperones and dates pose with Dolores Matoes, dance chairman, and Barbara Balzano, class president.

Mother Mary Hilda presents Deanna Mannix with the "Star Sapphire."

RING CEREMONY AND DANCE

Ring day . . . highlight of our Junior year . . . loyalty, love, and hope are in our long-awaited "Star Sapphires" . . . following this—the traditional Ring Dance . . . the ring weekend—a culmination of wonderful time and much happiness.

The highlight of our Junior year—our Ring Dance—hours of pleasure in dance and song.

From our Freshmen sisters—our floral ring of jonquils and iris.

"Time, you old gypsy man,

will you not stay?"

—HODGSON: Time, You Old Gypsy Man, I, 1

*"A little season
of joy and laughter."*

—HOLLAND: I, 1

ACTIVITIES

"Pleasure and action make the hours seem short."

SHAKESPEARE: Othello II, 3

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Barbara Balzano, President; Marilyn Sullivan, Vice-President; Alice Violet, Secretary; and Deanna Encalada, Treasurer — head 1958-59 Student Council.

S.G.O., backbone of campus life, is the link between the administration and the student body. It serves as the voice of the students and maintains the honor and ideals of the College.

During the past year, the Council's plans have evolved around its desire to keep student activities centered on the campus.

The Council is also designed to try to solve various student problems. The Organization is composed of members of the student body.

For the first time this year, Council members have assumed the responsibility of checking in the Cafeteria.

Barbara Balzano explains a pertinent fact in the handbook to a confused pair of underclassmen as members of the Council look on.

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC COLLEGE STUDENTS

N.F.C.C.S. . . . comprises over twenty thousand students in the United States . . . unifying bond between the Catholic college student and society . . . its aim for 1958-59—“the Catholic college student: a positive force in the educational community.”

At Salve Regina, N.F. sponsors a Family Life Unit . . . a clearing house for information to aid the various campus organizations . . . brings to the Federation students' views . . . to the individual students—the compilation of thoughts throughout the nation . . . encourages the Lay Apostolate . . . works with the students for the betterment of the individual and the Federation.

Anne Motte and Pat Dunigan, delegates, discuss orientation plans.

Marie Lazlo, campus Family Life chairman, meets with members to plan a panel discussion.

Very Reverend Kenneth C. Sullivan, O.P., addresses the campus unit on Catholicity in the family.

Reverend Dennis Burns, regional moderator of N.F.C.C.S., and Mrs. Eleanor McMahon highlighted the Leadership Institute in September with their talks on the potential of the Catholic college student.

REGINA MARIS

Anne confers with her efficient REGINA MARIS staff. On this "round table" the "Big Five" produced the '59 REGINA MARIS.

REGINA MARIS . . . official and unofficial record of our college days . . . our legacy to Salve Regina . . . to us, a momentous task, but ultimately our keepsake of four glorious years.

Our editor and co-editor:
"We'll never make that deadline!"

Deanna, business manager, alias Wall Street broker for REGINA MARIS.

Photography editors Ro and Sis now qualify to screen anything.

Shiela and Dee check envelopes with Ad List.

EBB TIDE

Anne Motte, feature editor of the Ebb Tide, confers with the staff about the next issue.

News, headlines, cuts, clipped out words, and paste all help to send EBB TIDE to press each month. Issued six times yearly under the direction of Sister Mary Donald, R.S.M., the college newspaper keeps students informed of important dates, happenings, and the very latest of news.

This year the paper was staffed by Carol Reardon and Anne Smith, as co-editors; Anne Motte as feature editor, and Marie McCarthy as business manager.

Anne Marie Smith and Carol Reardon, co-editors, look over the layout.

Earlene Mara and Marie McCarthy check the "proof" of the final copy.

The typing staff works individually to get the paper to press.

The writers of the staff check the assignment board.

MARIA REGINA SODALITY

The sodality has varied activities from planning the Christmas party for the underprivileged children to counseling the probationers who are seeking the membership. Some are busy planning the lay-out for the SODALITE. All meet each week for a period of discussion, of things spiritual, for the recitation of Our Lady's Hours or for stimulating instruction by the Moderator. Personal sanctification, the apostolate, and laity of the Church are the marks of a Maria Regina sodalist.

Jane Integlia, Prefect; Barbara O'Brien, Vice-Prefect, and Kathleen Hawkins, Secretary, are sodality leaders for 1958-1959.

THE QUEEN'S CHORISTERS

The Queen's Choristers, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Heywood, play an active role on campus. Shown above are the enthusiastic Freshmen eager to enthrall all audiences. Below are the upperclassmen ready for a formal presentation. To the left is seen an informal group singing in the Great Hall, accompanied by Sister Mary Rosina, R.S.M. Last but not least the officers of the Queen's Choristers plan another concert.

THE REGINA PLAYERS

Behind the glamour of grease paint, gay costumes, and glaring footlights, one thought is predominant in the minds of each member of the Regina Players—the show must go on!

Ability and willingness to work as well as devotion and dependency are the requirements for membership.

Family Circle

Mary Healey, Maude Skinner

Mary Rafferty, Abby

Ann Connors, Mab

Sue Gibbs, Enid

Vivian Gorini, Amy

Kathy Fenton, Grace

Wanda Tereska—Donna Hurd—Patricia Lyons
—discuss plans for ski-weekend.

W.R.A. . . . directed by Miss Flora Amado . . . with Sister Mary Philemon as moderator . . . a season full of fun and excitement . . . volley ball at its best . . . basketball games that only professionals could approach . . . ski-weekends that could never be forgotten . . . those unbelievable evenings at the skating rink . . . the result—a happy, successful year.

Susan Hatfield—instructions—not me!!

Evie Davoren—Tennis anyone?

Donna Hurd and Deanna Mannix—what a game!!

THE WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION

A Spring preview of Fashion features four amateur models, looking like Pro's. The first Fair Lady is Joyce Pimentel wearing a cloche. A picture hat accentuates a perfect face for Joyce Santucci. Aggie Givren lets us look into the past wearing a hat from the Roaring Twenties. You couldn't have a Fashion Show without a pillbox and on Marie Lazlo it just fits.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club seeks to blend the academic interests of its members with business and instructive meetings.

The club had as guests several speakers, each an expert in a field associated with Home Economics.

Social activities included the Fall Fashion Show, the Freshman initiation, the Advent wreath ceremony, the Christmas sewing bee and the Senior-Farewell Supper.

Delegates of the Home Economics Club attended both Regional and National Home Economics Conventions.

Officers of the Home Economics Club make arrangements for the Initiation. Joyce Pimentel, Secretary; Anne Corcoran, Treasurer; Agnes Givren, President; and Betsy Hennessey, Vice-President.

The Initiation begins the Club's activities. Each new member lights a candle from the Betty Lamp. The treasurer welcomes the new members by giving them their club pins.

Here is the advance guard of the Commuter's Club hastening to class in Ochre Court.

Sylvia Mithers holds forth at lunch without disturbing the appetites of her listeners.

"Happy" Sullivan and Sue Hale confer over social calendar.

COMMUTERS' CLUB

Members are a happy group from Frosh to Senior, hailing from varied cities and towns along the bus route from Providence or Fall River to Newport. Our Mecca is the lunch room in Ochre Court, a bee hive of activity at noon and a somber refuge for quiet study just before "that bell." As Commuters, we are ready to take on anything new and eager to participate in college activities.

These commuters do a little Catholic Action as the recitation of the rosary is recorded for local radio station.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

"L'esprit de Paris" and of all France is illustrated in the activities of the Alliance Francaise. Mrs. Jose Ramos is the competent director of the club, which is affiliated with the Alliance Francaise Nationale. An opportunity to increase facility in French conversation is afforded by both the formal and informal meetings of the group.

Madame Ramos moderates discussion of Pauline Beaulieu's trip to Laval University and Tullia Tudino's to Paris.

El Circulo Salamanca under the capable direction of Sister Mary John Francis endeavors to inculcate a love for the native traditions of Spain and a clearer understanding of Pan American relationships.

Watch it, Rosa, or disaster may be lurking just around the corner.

Deanna Encalada, president of El Circulo Salamanca, knows the Spanish traditions thoroughly.

EL CIRCULO SALAMANCA

Spanish conversation is quite in place even at odd moments.

Sitting at the head table holds no fears for these Spanish majors.

These students are enjoying the finer things in life—music and art. Here at Rosary Hall, the girls view some of the students' work.

Painting in oils is a challenge to this group of Art students.

THE ART CLUB

Away from the clamor of feminine voices and bells, these girls enjoy the solitude of brief rest at Mother Nature's front door.

Art! The magic word that opens the door to the beautiful. Rosary Hall is the scene of varied activities. It may be art education time. Lesson plans are being formulated, projects are in the process of completion. Painting, design, and ceramics are all part of training in art. In the little house by the gates art students spend many enjoyable and stimulating hours.

What's so interesting, Janet? These Junior and Sophomore student nurses are vitally interested.

THE STUDENT NURSES' ORGANIZATION

The Student Nurses' Organization provides a unifying bond for all students in the Nursing division. One of the main functions of the organization is to make Salve Regina nursing students well known on the state and national levels.

Helgi Danjczek, class of '58, presides at the installation of officers to the Rhode Island Nurses' Association. At this meeting Maria Pezza '59 was elected corresponding secretary.

Maria Pezza is Senior delegate to the Rhode Island Student Nurses' Association.

Janet Rousseau is Junior delegate to the Rhode Island Student Nurses' Association.

"In thee is pity,

*in thee is tenderness,
in thee magnificence."*

—DANTE: Paradiso, Canto 33

“O Hidden God, devoutly we adore Thee.”
